Two NEW In Our Schools Programs on ETV February 24th

* In Our Schools – Implementing the ESEA Flexibility Plan

LIVE Feb. 24, 6:00–6:57 p.m. ETV-HD

e-mail questions to inourschools@scetv.org

Repeats Feb. 25 and March 1, 12:00–12:57 p.m. IMC

(Unlimited rights)

Repeats March 3, 3:00–3:57 p.m. SC Channel (SCC)

(No interaction for repeats)

Watch the next installment of In Our Schools as we examine the implementation of South Carolina's approved Elementary and Secondary Education Flexibility Plan. What will new standards in English and mathematics mean for students and teachers? How does the new accountability system provide schools and districts more information about student performance while holding them accountable for student learning? What types of assistance will low-performing schools receive and how will high-performing schools be rewarded? And, how will the new evaluation system provide feedback to educators to improve classroom instruction?

Join State Superintendent of Education Mick Zais and others on Sunday evening, February 24 to learn more about this plan. Produced by the SC Department of Education in partnership with ETV, the In Our Schools series highlights key educational initiatives in SC schools. Several times a year special LIVE editions in the series are produced from the ETV studios, allowing viewers to e-mail questions on the topic to the panel. Send questions before and during the LIVE program to: inourschools@scetv.org.

* In Our Schools – Principals of Excellence, Part 4 Focuses on Technology

Feb. 24, 1:30–1:57 p.m. ETV-HD

Repeats Feb. 25 and March 1, 8:00–8:27 a.m. IMC (Unlimited rights)

Repeats Feb. 24, 3:30–3:57 p.m. SC Channel (SCC) Also available online in StreamlineSC

In Our Schools – Principals of Excellence series consists of five programs. Join Laura Blanchard, Principal at Reeves Elementary School in Dorchester School District Two, who leads a discussion with five other outstanding principal leaders for Part 4 about Technology in Your School – Challenges and Opportunities.

After parents, the biggest impact on a child's success comes from the man or woman at the front of the classroom. A caring and qualified teaching workforce is essential for the success of our public schools, and for continued progress by our state. After teachers, principals are next most important in determining the quality of a child's education. In South Carolina, we have many excellent principals who support their students and staff through their instructional leadership. Some of these outstanding school leaders have been honored as the Tenenbaum Award winner for their cohort of the School Leadership Executive Institute. In these programs, we'll hear from a group of competent and caring professionals who touch the lives of students every day . . . they are truly Principals of Excellence.

NEW Project Discovery – Life at Lemmon Hill Plantation, Part 2, Feb. 26

You are invited to access this NEW program produced by eMedia with SCETV on February 26 at 1:00 p.m. This program will focus on contributions of the African Americans who helped SC plantations prosper in the late 18th and early 19th centuries. Please see page 3 for more information!

NEW Project Discovery – Life at Lemmon Hill Plantation, Part 2 ... February 26 at 1:00 p.m. on ETV and IMC

Feb. 26, 1:00–1:27 p.m. ETV-HD and IMC*

Repeats Feb. 28 and March 15, 8:00–8:27 a.m. IMC

Also will be available in StreamlineSC

(Unlimited rights)

Special NOTE: Part 1 will repeat Feb. 26, 11:00–11:27 a.m. IMC

This special Project Discovery program is the second of two programs originating from Lemmon Hill Plantation! Produced by the South Carolina Department of Education's eMedia team with SCETV, this program will again take students to Lemmon Hill Plantation near Winnsboro to explore a historic home and focus on the contributions of the African Americans who helped build South Carolina plantations and allow them to prosper. As craftsmen they built fine and useful furnishings, some of which we'll get to see in this program that is recommended for students in upper elementary through high school.

Join eMedia's Bette Jamison and SCDE Social Studies Consultant Lewis Huffman with special guest hosts Katie Mixon and Tanisha Polite to learn why settlers living in our coastal areas made their way inland to build working plantations as we take a look at life during the 1790s and early 1800s in the piedmont region of our state. We'll see how Lemmon Hill Plantation, rescued and restored over the last few years to emulate its original beauty by owners Dawn and Chuck Corley, is an example of the refined living that was rather unique to what was the back country at that time.

Part 1 of Project Discovery – Life at Lemmon Hill Plantation allows students to go inside the home to see remnants of indigo paint, view a unique bedroom ceiling specially decorated by a young girl and learn how people lived during this period of our history when western Fairfield county was a bastion of extreme wealth with cotton and indigo grown abundantly in the fertile fields and beautiful, blue granite mined in nearby quarries. It will repeat on February 26, also. Special thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Corley for working with eMedia to produce this interesting program that allows students to go back in time to see what life was like over 200 years ago in this area of our state! Please alert your social studies teachers to this NEW program, which helps students to understand why it is important to preserve these hallmarks of our SC history.

Riverbanks Roundup – Supports Science Standards

Feb. 22, 5:30–5:57 p.m. ETV-HD

Repeats Feb. 15 and March 4, 8:00–8:27 a.m. IMC

Also access online in StreamlineSC

(Unlimited rights)

eMedia continues to work with our outstanding Riverbanks Zoo and Gardens on producing interesting programs that support science standards for grades K-6! Guests include professionals who work with cute penguins, who take care of many types of animals and who have vast knowledge of maintaining thriving habitats. This edition of Riverbanks Roundup is entitled Animal Love Stories. How do animals attract a valentine? Baboons, Birds of Paradise and flowers do some of the things we do! Learn secrets to animal amour as we discover gift giving, dating dances and love nests on this special program. Students can e-mail questions to RiverbanksRoundup@Riverbanks.org. Please alert science teachers to this series that features great educational content to support standards.

NOTE: Riverbanks Roundup – Telling Tails, a NEW program that aired in January, repeats February 4 at 10:00 a.m. on the IMC. Catch this new program!

Please see pages 5 & 6 for series with “Limited Rights” that repeat this month for only other time during this school year.

Annual Benedict College Black History Teleconference

Feb. 24, 5:00–6:30 p.m. ETV-HD

Repeats Feb. 25, 10:00–11:30 a.m. IMC (Unlimited rights)

The 26th Annual Benedict College Black History Teleconference will be held on the campus of Benedict College in Columbia on Wednesday, February 13. It will be taped to air on ETV February 24. This year presents an exciting year to commemorate the 150th year of the signing of the Emancipation Proclamation and the 50th year since Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., led the March on Washington, D.C. Students from Benedict College and high school students from A.C. Flora, C.A. Johnson, Lower Richland, Richland Northeast, Eau Claire, and W.J. Keenan High Schools will direct questions to prominent African Americans about their ideas, challenges and life achievements. Confirmed guest panelists are Mr. Jonathan Green, Professional Artist; Mrs. Robin Beaman, President of Beaman, Inc.; Mrs. Shondia Sabari, Inspirational Speaker; Mr. DeMaurice Smith, Director, NFLPA; and Mr. Jesse E. Russell, CEO/Inventor, incNETWORKS, Inc. The program was developed by Dr. Marianna White Davis, special assistant to Dr. David H. Swinton, President of Benedict College. Mrs. Vareva Harris is the current Executive Producer. Co-sponsoring this year's program are ETV, Benedict College, Clear Talk, the SC Conference of Black Mayors, and Friends of Jim Clyburn.

The Big Picture – Senator Tim Scott

Repeats Feb. 6, 2:15–2:45 p.m. IMC (Unlimited rights)

ETV's The Big Picture sits down with newly sworn in junior Senator from South Carolina, Senator Tim Scott. He'll talk about his life leading up the U.S. Senate, what his agenda and goals are, and what the future holds. This program aired January 24, 2013, in the ETV schedule.

Making Dollars From $ense – 2012 Program Repeats

Information for students about earning, saving, spending, and investing!

Repeats Feb. 1, 8:30–8:50 a.m. and 9:00–9:20 a.m. IMC

Repeats Feb. 4, 9:30–9:50 a.m. IMC (Unlimited rights)

The NEW title for the ETV Stock Market Game for 2012-13 is Making Dollars From $ense! Consisting of five programs produced in fall 2012, this series provides students information they need to make thoughtful, well-informed decisions about earning, saving, spending, and investing money. Also, each program features one of the 2013 SC Young Entrepreneur Award winners who share their experience of working for themselves to earn money. The first program in the series repeats this month. For info, contact SC Economics at 803-777-8676.

Finding Money for College 2013 Repeats

Updated Important Information on Ways to Access $ for Higher Education

Repeats Feb. 5 and 14, 8:00–10:00 a.m. IMC

Repeats Feb. 10, 3:00–5:00 p.m. SC Channel (SCC)

(NOTE: Change – will not air Feb. 3 on SCC) (No interaction for repeats) (Unlimited rights)

A special program to assist students and parents in looking for ways to pay for a college education aired January 27 on ETV. The repeat broadcasts are NOT interactive with call-in and e-mail questions, but the information is very useful to high school students and parents. Financial aid professionals from public and private colleges and universities in our state and representatives from the SC Higher Education Tuition Grants and the SC Commission on Higher Education provide information on scholarships, grants and loans.

NOTE: To find the archived program, go to <http://scetv.org/americangraduate/fmfc/> and look for program title Finding Money for College 2013.

SC Emerging Technology Conference

ETV and Richland 1 have partnered to provide a conference that focuses on new and emerging technology trends in education. This year's conference will focus on mobile technology and workshops to support the use of mobile devices in three specific areas:

Administration, Instructional and Technical Support

The conference will be held at W.J. Keenan High School in Columbia on February 8 and 9, 2013. Watch the Streamline website for more information.

Handouts to use for training and answering questions

You have access to handouts to use for training your staff or answering questions. On our website (www.streamlinesc.org) you can click on the "Classroom Resources" link on the left side of the page. There you will find lots of valuable information to share with your staff.

Embed a Video in PowerPoint

When you embed a downloaded file, you insert it right into your document much as you would a picture or clipart file. Embedding is an effective way to add video content to existing presentations, create interactive learning projects with menus and text prompts, or develop slide shows in which video files play automatically.

The procedure involved in embedding video files will vary with certain software applications. The following steps apply to documents created in Microsoft PowerPoint:

1. Download a video segment to a designated folder.
2. Save your new or revised PowerPoint document in the same folder.
3. Go to "Insert" > "Movies and Sounds" > "Movie from File."
4. Click to select the video file that you wish to insert in your document.
NOTE: With some software versions, you may have to "Browse for File" and navigate to your saved file.
5. Select the automatic play option or choose to start the video with a mouse click.

FREE Workshops at your school

Remember that we are available to do FREE workshops at your school on Basic Streamline, Movie Maker, Digital Storytelling, Student Usage, and more. Check our website for more information.

For more information about StreamlineSC or to arrange a training session for your school, please contact Debbie Jarrett at djarrett@scetv.org or Donna Thompson at dthompson@scetv.org. Visit the web site at <http://etv.streamlinesc.org>.

The CWEFT programs use 21st century technology to enrich the teaching of history and social studies. The field trips are correlated to national standards and provide a compelling learning experience for grades 4–8, using re-enactors to play the roles of historical figures. By paying the fee to participate, schools get the outstanding teacher materials, get to keep the recorded program for the life of the tape and have access to the re-enactors and historians online and via a toll-free number. Schools pay approximately $500 per school for all seven programs, but rights for individual programs can be purchased. For information on paying the fee to participate in CWEFT, contact Dale Van Eck at CWEFT 1-800-761-8331 or dvaneck@cwf.org.

Congratulations to Becky Lebron at Moultrie Middle School in Mt. Pleasant, Kim Guthrie at Granard Middle School in Gaffney and Lindsey Moore at Covenant Classical Christian School in Columbia for receiving a scholarship provided through eMedia for their schools to use the CWEFT series this year!

Special NOTE: ETV no longer airs this series on ETV-HD. The programs will air on the K–12 IMC at 10:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. and also on the SC Channel at 7:00 p.m.

Revised Broadcast Schedule: 10:00–11:00 a.m. & 1:00–2:00 p.m. on IMC and 7:00–8:00 p.m. on the SC Channel (SCC)*

Feb. 14, 2013 The Slave Trade – Explores the U.S. Law of 1807 that abolished the transatlantic slave trade. Meet the people involved in or influenced by this pivotal legislation: slaves, plantation owners, slave-ship captains and crew, government officials, navy officers, and antislavery activists.

Mar. 14, 2013 The Global Economy (premiere) – Join Maggie, an adventurous rat, as she boards ships using international trade routes to make her way home from England to the American colonies. Along the way, discover the inner workings of an 18th c. mercantile system.

Apr. 11, 2013 The Industrious Tradesmen – Follow the lives of several journeymen fresh from their apprenticeships in trades and business as they learn how skill and opportunity will impact their careers. Who will achieve their dreams and become masters of their own shops?

RIGHTS: SC schools may view with 10-day fair use rights. (Can record, but program must be used within ten days and erased/destroyed within 45 days.) ONLY schools that get a scholarship through eMedia OR pay CWEFT to participate can keep the copy of the program(s) for the life of the tape/DVD, receive the guides, get online access, and have phone interaction with the historians.

DHEC Recognizes 2012-13 Champions of the Environment

Eight schools have been recognized as Champions of the Environment for the 2012-2013 school year, the S.C. Department of Health and Environmental Control announced. “We’re pleased to be able to give out eight major grant awards this year,” said Amanda Ley, DHEC’s coordinator for the Champions of the Environment program. “We were also able to provide smaller starter awards to seven other schools just beginning their projects. This year’s grant award projects are really innovative and spread widely across the state. Topics range from alternative energy and sustainable gardening to restoring natural areas.”

This year’s Champions of the Environment Grant winners include: Ocean Bay Middle School in Myrtle Beach, Bookman Road Elementary School in Elgin, The Barclay School in Columbia, Beaufort-Jasper Academy for Career Excellence in Ridgeland, Eleanor S. Rice Elementary School in Greenwood, A.J. Whittenberg Elementary School in Greenville, Loris Middle School in Loris, and Gateway Elementary School in Travelers Rest.

In addition to the grant awards, videos will be made about each of the projects and these will be featured on WIS-TV (Columbia), the Champions’ website, and You Tube.

Champions of the Environment supports environmental action in South Carolina’s Kindergarten through 12th grade students through its grant award program. Champions of the Environment is sponsored by SCDHEC and other partners, with support from eMedia. More information about the Champions of the Environment grant award program can be found at <http://www.scdhec.gov/champions>.

Our Nation's Capitol – LIVE Field Trip to U.S. Capitol

LIVE Feb. 13, 1:00–2:00 p.m. IMC (One-year fair use rights)

Presented by the IQ Learning Network, a division of Alabama Public Television, this NEW LIVE electronic field trip will air on the K-12 IMC on February 13 to allow students to experience one of the most architecturally impressive and symbolically important buildings in the world! Student reporters will uncover the history, art and architecture that define America's living symbol of democracy and freedom as they have behind-the-scenes access to explore the Rotunda and learn more about the legislative branch of our federal government that is housed in this historic building.

This program is targeted for students in grades 5-8, but is appropriate for all ages. Teachers who plan to access this program are asked to register at www.aptv.org/capitolfieldtrip. To enhance the experience, registration provides immediate access to "bonus" material including Click-Learn-Teach: United States Presidential Inaugurations. Don't miss engaging program and please register!

Reading, Safety & Internet Safety Minutes

Repeats Feb. 7, 11:50–11:55 p.m. IMC (Unlimited rights) Also in StreamlineSC

These PSA-type segments are for media specialists to use in school news programs and share with all students as well as the entire school community. The messages in these "minute" programs promote reading, help students think about their own safety and realize the consequences of cyber bullying. Produced with Dutch Fork High School students and Gilbert Middle School students, the Reading, Safety and Internet Safety Minutes consist of one "minute" segment on each topic for middle school students and one "minute" segment on each topic for high school students.

What's Up in Finance – Great for Middle & High Students

Repeats Feb. 11, 8:00–8:30 a.m. IMC (Limited broadcast/off air record, no duplication) SL

NOTE: Last time eMedia can broadcast this program this school year.

Young people show how to develop money smarts and workplace skills they need to achieve their goals. From preparing a budget to what it takes to start a business, basic concepts of personal finance and entrepreneurship as well as the corporate world of high finance are explored. For grades 7-12.

Comments from Participants about eMedia's SC History (entitled SC Chronicles) Teacher Recertification Courses!

I thoroughly enjoyed this course! I learned something new in every video and the information was presented in a way that would transfer easily to the classroom. I liked the mix of video formats - some discussions with Dr. Walter Edgar, some reenactments, some narrated, some filmed recently on-site with interviews with experts.

I loved this class! It was helpful to me to be able to go back and replay parts of the videos when I needed to. I was happy to get the titles of books that I will enjoy, learn from, and be able to use to find new stories to tell.

I have learned so much from this course and would recommend it to anyone wanting to learn more about SC's Revolutionary History. I have visited several of the places mentioned in the videos, and it made it that much more interesting to me. I will plan to visit other SC Historic Sites in the near future.

Wow! I have learned so much from all three of the courses I took during this session. All were equally important in telling of our state's history.

I appreciate that these videos are available on StreamlineSC. (See pages 39 and 40 in this update!)

Note From SC Teacher About Teen Kids News (TKN)!

We met enthusiastic teacher Jessica Brooks at this year's Ed Tech Conference in Greenville! She shared with us how she used the eMedia series Teen Kids News and how effective it is with her students. We asked her to send a note so we could share her success with other SC teachers:

“I use Teen Kids News every week in my classroom. I teach 4-6th grade emotionally disabled students. They also have other disabilities that hinder their learning. Every one of my students has a goal or objective in his or her Individualized Education Plan that encompasses current events. My students enjoy the news program because of the teens that actually give the news. They have someone to relate to and they also think it is cool that students get to put on such a cool TV show. Students have discussion groups after each episode of TKN and it gets them talking and thinking about things going on in our world today. I am asking that this program stay available for use in my classroom. Thanks so much!”

Special IOS Programs for February's National Career and Technology Education Month

- In Our Schools – Career & Technology Education Partnerships for SC Workforce Development (NEW)

Feb. 11, 3:30–4:00 p.m. IMC (Unlimited rights) Will be available in StreamlineSC

This NEW program features statewide leaders who lead the efforts for career development and workforce development. Dr. Ray Davis, SCDE's Office of Career and Technology Education, along with eMedia and ETV's camera crew travel to the world-class Lexington One Technology Center to see the exciting career opportunities the Center provides for students. Lexington One's Superintendent, Dr. Karen Woodward, and Center Director, Ken Lake, along with a team of CTE and guidance professionals and outstanding educators discuss how they have created winning partnerships with area corporations and colleges to benefit their students. With additional insights from former and current Lexington Technology Center students, Midlands Tech President and a Michelin Representative, we'll learn about one of the nation's top technology centers and Lexington One's CTE pathways.

- In Our Schools – Outstanding Career Guidance in Middle School, Parts 1 and 2

Repeats Feb. 11, 12:55–1:55 p.m. IMC (Unlimited rights) Available in StreamlineSC

These two programs were produced in 2012 by eMedia and SCETV, working with Dr. Ray Davis, SCDE's Office of Career and Technology Education. Career and technology education (CTE) provides our nation with students who are college and career ready to meet global challenges. In SC schools, educators integrate career awareness and exploration into the curriculum, helping guide students into fields where they can be productive members of the 21st century workforce. Part 1 looks at how Forestbrook Middle School in Horry County has created a world-class career exploration program that prepares students for high skill, high wage and big demand careers. We'll meet National and State Career Specialist of the Year 2011 to learn about best practices and the role of career and technology education in workforce development. A strong career exploration program is essential in middle school to prepare students for career and technology (CTE) course selections in high school. In Part 2, we see how Forestbrook Middle School in Horry County works with parents and businesses to enhance work-based learning and classroom guidance for students. Also, we'll hear about their successful transition process as students matriculate from elementary to middle school and then to high school or career centers.

- In Our Schools – Hillcrest High Focuses on Careers

Repeats Feb. 12, 3:30–4:00 p.m. IMC (Unlimited rights) Available in StreamlineSC

Hillcrest High School in Greenville County Schools excels in both standards-based career guidance and implementation of Perkins IV programs of study and has established an outstanding college and career readiness program. Students benefit from academic programs such as pre-veterinarian studies, turf management and horticulture as well as community-based extended learning internships and volunteer opportunities. This program explores how the career guidance staff, career and technology education teachers and local businesses work together to create a vibrant experience.

Other Series Focus on Careers – All in StreamlineSC

- * Hot Jobs Repeat block feed Feb. 4, 2:30–4:00 p.m. IMC (Unlimited rights)

This series features segments from the Carolina Works TV series, produced by the SC Employment Security Commission. The 15 segments each highlight a different job by hearing from a person about their education/training and what they like about their job.

- * Career Day Series Repeat block feed Feb. 5, 1:40–3:55 p.m. IMC (Unlimited rights)

This series of four 30-minute lessons is designed for grades 5-8 and supports efforts to increase student interest and performance in science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM). The programs spark student interest in STEM-related careers through virtual field trips into days in the lives of experts and also provide information on the education students need to pursue these careers. Programs provided by the Fairfax Network.

- * Career Encounters Repeat block feed Feb. 7, 4:00–9:32 p.m. IMC (Unlimited rights)

This series of ten documentary-style programs explores some of the challenging and rewarding career fields such as architecture, optics, pharmacy, auto tech, vet medicine, alternative fuel tech, and women in computing and engineering.

National Career & Technology Education Month – Repeats!

Creating a Career with the Media Arts in Mind

Repeat block feed Feb. 26, 1:30–4:00 p.m. IMC (Unlimited rights) Also online in StreamlineSC

This group of “Creating a Career” programs features seven professionals with careers in the media arts – animation, gaming, photography, TV, film industry, documentary filmmaking, and broadcast engineering. The five programs, designed for middle and high school students, feature discussions hosted by SCDE’s Dr. Ray Davis and Scot Hockman. These outstanding professionals talk about their education and career preparation, what they do on the job, a typical day, how they use technology in their work, and give advice for students.

Guests include: John Lemmon of John Lemmon Films and Character Animation Studio in Charlotte, N.C., Betsy Newman who is a documentary filmmaker and instructor, Michael O’Byron who is a renowned photographer, Tom Clark with the SC Film Commission, Mark Slice who is the Manager of Technical Operations at SCETV, Jean Pinkston who is director of SCETV on-air fundraising and programming, and J.J. Shepherd at Serious Game Researcher at USC. These discussions, produced by eMedia with ETV, are excellent for students who are thinking about careers in the media arts!

Each Creating a Career with the Media Arts in Mind program is @27 minutes (Unlimited rights):

Welcome to My Career Segments - DreamWorks & ICAR

Repeat block feed Feb. 19, 11:30–11:55 a.m. IMC (Unlimited rights) Also in StreamlineSC

Recommended for middle and high school students, this program takes students to Hollywood, California and to ICAR at Clemson University. In Hollywood, we visit with Billy Brooks, who is a Senior Lighter in animation at fabulous DreamWorks, which is the home of Kung Fu Panda, Shrek and Puss in Boots. Mr. Brooks takes South Carolina students on a journey behind the scenes of the DreamWorks “campus” where we learn about the fascinating 21st century work environment and what a career in animation is like in a highly creative setting with cutting edge technology. Students learn how co-founder Steven Spielberg developed a work place that fosters creativity. And video game-obsessed students can set their sights on “careers in animation.”

Then coming back to South Carolina in program two we meet Dr. Imtiaz Haque who is Executive Director of the Carroll A. Campbell Graduate Engineering Center, Founding Chair of the Department of Automotive Engineering and past chair of the Department of Mechanical Engineering at Clemson University. His teaching and research interests lie in the general areas of dynamics, vibrations, mechanisms and machines, and manufacturing process simulation. He has been involved with the design, modeling and simulation of mechanical systems including vehicles and transmissions since 1975 and led the development of the Graduate Program in Automotive Engineering at CUICAR.

SC's Military Career Pathways 101 Initiative (MCP101)

Repeats Feb. 19, 3:25–3:55 p.m. IMC (Unlimited rights) Available in StreamlineSC

Developed in partnership by the Office of Career and Technology Education of the SC Department of Education, the US Army, ASVAB, and the Department of Defense and produced by eMedia, this program was taped on location at Ft. Jackson in June 2011. "Military Career Pathways 101" is a course designed to assist educators in better understanding postsecondary opportunities in the military. Emphasis was placed on a comprehensive approach to providing educators with information to share with students and their parents regarding postsecondary transitions into military career pathways; facilitating collaborative recruitment practices between our schools and military recruiters; dismantling myths regarding military careers; utilization of educational resources and assessments that can facilitate student career decision-making; and understanding financial assistance available for postsecondary education during and after military service when working with students who are planning to attend higher education institutions in our state as they transition from high school to college and beyond. This video provides viewers an opportunity to examine the diverse military career pathways assessable at multiple entry and exit points across one's lifespan. A special view is provided of the U.S. Army's appreciation of students who arrive with the career and technology skills to staff high tech and high skill military duties.

Military Career Pathways of Today's Soldiers

Repeat block feed Feb. 7, 9:40–11:45 p.m. IMC (Unlimited rights) Also in StreamlineSC

Jail No Bail – ETV Carolina Stories Program

Repeats Feb. 8, 12:45–1:15 p.m. IMC (Unlimited rights) Also available in StreamlineSC

On January 31, 1961, ten black students from Friendship College walked into McCrory's Five and Dime in downtown Rock Hill, SC. They sat down at the lunch counter to order burgers and drinks. They were denied service and told to leave. When they refused, they were arrested and charged with trespassing. In previous sit-ins across the South, protestors were arrested, processed by the police, fined, and then released, creating a dubious revenue stream from which municipalities easily profited. But when the Friendship students went before the judge, they chose to serve their time behind bars. For the first time, not only did the city not collect money from the accused, but it actually had to pay to house and feed the men. Word of this action spread and received national attention. The "Jail, No Bail" strategy became the new tactic that helped galvanize the civil rights protest movement. Actor Keith David narrates the documentary that was produced by the staff at ETV Carolinas.

Project Discovery – Commemorating the Orangeburg Massacre

Repeats Feb. 4, 11:00 a.m.–12:00 p.m. IMC (Unlimited rights) *No phone interaction for repeat SL

Produced by eMedia with ETV, Project Discovery is an interactive electronic field trip that allows SC students to visit places and talk to experts, historians and other interesting people around our state. In February 2008 Project Discovery talked with key people and historians who gathered on the campus of South Carolina State University to commemorate The Orangeburg Massacre, as it would later be called, which occurred February 8, 1968 on the campus. While the events of that day played a part in what led to three students being killed and 27 injured, it was also the culmination of the preceding days' events that contributed to this tragic and sad time in our state's history. This program is recommended for middle/high school students studying SC and US history.

Documentary on the Greensboro Four Repeats

Repeats Feb. 1, 3:00–4:00 p.m. and Feb. 10, 12:10–1:08 p.m. IMC (Unlimited rights) SL

February One: The Greensboro Four, a documentary that tells the story of The Greensboro Four, and features dramatic reenactments, rare historical footage and first-hand accounts of the event. The program documents one volatile winter in Greensboro. The events not only challenged public accommodation customs and laws in North Carolina, but served as a blue print for the wave of non-violent civil rights protests that swept the South and the nation in the 1960's. Find teacher's guide with SC standards at www.eMedia.scetv.org. Look under "Resources for Teachers - Teacher's Guides Available Online" to find title. Also, guide posted online in StreamlineSC.

Primary Citizenship – eMedia Series for Grades 1-3

Repeat block feed Feb. 18, 12:10–1:19 p.m. IMC (Last time this school year can be aired)

(Limited broadcast/off-air record rights, no duplication) Available in StreamlineSC

Told by a young child, these seven 10-minute programs give children major ideas and experiences they should acquire to become effective citizens. South Carolina curriculum standards require students know what voting, being or becoming an American citizen, national holidays, pledging allegiance, songs of liberty, and what America's symbols and flags mean.

Great Campaigns of the Civil War – Access Feb. 13th

Repeat block feed Feb. 13, 10:55 a.m.–12:53 p.m. IMC (Last time this school year can be aired)

(Limited broadcast/off-air-record, no tape duplication) Available in StreamlineSC

Designed for grades 6-12, this series of four lessons uses realistic reenactments of the pivotal battles in the Civil War, along with letters, speeches and diaries to humanize the struggle.

America's Quest for Freedom – eMedia Series Repeats

Repeats Feb. 11, 8:30–11:50 p.m. IMC (Limited broadcasts/off-air record, no duplication)

NOTE: This is the last time eMedia can broadcast series this school year. Posted in StreamlineSC.

Designed for grades 5–12, this series of nine lessons, @15–19 minutes in duration, looks at the main story of America being its quest for freedom for all. While it celebrates our dedication to this human ideal, it also realistically shows that events, which increased freedom for some groups, were usually accompanied by forces suppressing liberty for others. Each lesson covers a different era from Colonial America to WWII and after.

Lesson Titles	Durations
1. Freedom & Repression in Colonial America	17:02
2. The Growth of Pre-Revolutionary Freedoms	17:15
3. Ideas of Freedom in Revolutionary America	18:17
4. Freedom & Loss: Wilderness & Industry	14:45
5. Freedom's Irony: Trails of Tears & Manifest Destiny	17:40
6. Freedom & Justice: The Civil War Era	18:08
7. Freedoms Gained & Lost in The Gilded Age	16:45
8. Freedom Marches Into the 20th Century	16:25
9. Free at Last? WWII & After	18:40

The series was developed in cooperation with the American Association for Health Education (AAHE) and provided by the State Department of Education through eMedia. Access these great elementary programs for your teachers in the IMC and online in StreamlineSC. Each 10-minute Deskercise program is built around a weekly theme. eMedia will block feed the entire month's programs (usually 4 weeks or 20 programs) during the middle of each month PRIOR to when they are recommended for use according to the weekly themes. For example, all the programs designed with themes for March use will air February 13 and 20.

The March theme for the first week is "National Nutrition Month." (March programs are aired in February. See below.) The five programs, each 10 minutes, for this week all contain the same core exercise segment that relates information on the importance of being healthy. Each of the five programs with the "National Nutrition Month" theme begins with a different warm-up segment about a place in a different state and ends with a different short health tip, but the core exercise-at-your-desk segment is the same the entire week. For block feed schedule of March programs and upcoming months, see grid listed below.

Deskercise Schedule on IMC (Unlimited rights)

Web Talk with Michelle Flamos

February is Black History Month and we have some great resources for you, including Northward to Freedom and A History of Black Achievement in America, which eMedia has leased for SC schools use the past several years. Ambrose video, the distributor of A History of Black Achievement in America, 20th Century Turning Points, A History of US Wars, and A History of Women's Achievement in America has recently entered into an agreement with Discovery Education to provide additional content. Please check out 19th and 21st Century Turning Points, A History of American Indians in America and A History of Hispanic Achievement in America in StreamlineSC. Each title is broken out into small focused segments, is highly produced and features a nationally recognized host. Let us know what you think! As always you may contact me at mflamos@ed.sc.gov or 803-737-0951. Until next month, I hope each of you shares a love-filled Valentine's Day!

eMedia Recertification Courses for Spring 2013*

Earn Renewal Credits! Go to www.emedia.scetv.org

Registration opens: February 27, 2013

eMedia will offer over 30 one-hour Teacher Recertification Courses during an 8-week session that will begin on March 27th and conclude on May 22nd. Cost for each course will be $50 and the registration opens February 27th. The courses will be accessed online in Moodle. Participants view course videos and complete discussion questions related to the video lessons via discussion forum in Moodle.

*Previously in the January eMedia Update, it was announced that eMedia would provide two course sessions this spring, but, due to the illness of our course coordinator, we will run courses for one session. See pages 37-38 in this update. For detailed information and registration go to the eMedia Web site at www.emedia.scetv.org. Look for the link "Recertification Courses."

Plan to Access! Healthy Children in Healthy Schools

Repeat block feed Feb. 7, 2:05–3:22 p.m. IMC (Unlimited rights) Also online in StreamlineSC

These four programs are recommended for administrators and teachers. The first three are led by Delores Pluto, Ph.D., YRBS & District Health Policy Coordinator with SCDE's SC Healthy Schools (dpluto@ed.sc.gov). The last program is presented by Aaron Bryan, HIV Coordinator with SCDE's SC Healthy Schools (akbryan@ed.sc.gov).

- Health Risk Behaviors among SC Youth: Results from the 2011 SC Youth Risk Behavior Survey

The SC Youth Risk Behavior Survey is conducted every other year to assess the prevalence of health risk behaviors among middle and high schools students. This overview of results from the 2011 survey includes current data along with trends in tobacco use, nutrition, physical activity, and sexual risk behaviors.

- Making the Case for Comprehensive Tobacco-Free School Policies in South Carolina

One in three high school students in South Carolina use some form of tobacco product. While all school districts prohibit students from using tobacco on school property, many districts still allow tobacco use by faculty, staff or visitors in certain locations. Learn more about comprehensive policies, and how they create and maintain a tobacco-free school environment for the entire school community that is consistent with what students learn in class about the harmful effects of tobacco.

- Local Wellness Policies: Improving Physical Activity and Nutrition Opportunities in Schools

Since 2006, districts have been required to have local wellness policies. The purpose of these policies is to ensure that districts and schools provide environments and opportunities for students to be physically active; provide students with healthy food choices and promote healthy eating; and teach students how to make healthy choices. Learn how South Carolina's new wellness policy guidelines can be used by districts to improve their local wellness policies.

- SC Comprehensive Health Education Act: Focus on Sexuality Education

This program provides an overview of the Comprehensive Health Education Act with a focus on the sections of the law that govern sexual risk reduction education for middle and high school students. The law provides requirements and prohibitions related to pregnancy prevention, sexually transmitted disease prevention, including HIV and reproductive health. This overview enhances the ability of superintendents, principals and teachers to maintain compliance with the South Carolina Comprehensive Health Education Act.

TechBytes - Technology for the Classroom ... NEW Edition

Feb. 13, 2:00–3:00 p.m. IMC

Also online in StreamlineSC

Repeats Feb. 20, 1:00–2:00 p.m. IMC (Unlimited rights)

This third installation of TechBytes focuses on iPad initiatives! We will travel to Burke Middle-High School and Goodwin Elementary School in Charleston, SC, where we'll hear from Principals Maurice Cannon (Burke) and Diane Ross (Goodwin) about the impact this initiative has had on their schools. Also, John Miller, AJ Parks and Lynn Clegg, all District Technology Instructional Coordinators, will share best practices and provide an overview about how the process is going. Additionally, we will go into classrooms to show how teachers are implementing this tool in their daily lessons. Included in the program will be a list of resources related to iPad initiatives. Join us and learn more about this new tool that is taking the classroom and teaching by storm! For information on content, please contact Michelle Flamos at mflamos@ed.sc.gov.

February is Career and Technology Education Month as well as Job Shadowing Month in South Carolina! This month on Carolina Careers, we will review both events and share ways to enhance your CTE enrollment and your school's work-based learning numbers.

Creating a Career with the Media Arts in Mind, Part 5 will continue our intriguing interview with South Carolina media arts specialists on their career pathways. This series is great to share with students who might benefit hearing first-hand from a professional photographer, a studio sound technician, a "serious game" designer whose games help rehabilitate stroke victims, an owner of an animation studio, the manager of the Film Office at South Carolina PRT, and others. This month in the segment entitled "What Advice Would You Have for K-12 Students Interested in Your Career Field?" our panelists will share valuable advice for students considering career pathways that fall within the Arts, A/V Technology and Communications career cluster.

Continuing our year-long focus on the work of South Carolina's CTE career centers, we will host two outstanding career counselors from rural career centers that have excelled in their work to create opportunities for their students through their center. Kama Staton, of the Office of Career and Technology Education (OCTE), will interview Elaine Rosenbaum (Abbeville Career Center) and Murline Ingram (Newberry Career Center) as they share tips on how their collaborative approach with community and business leaders, feeder high schools, middle school career explorations programs, and CTE teachers support their students' career development. "Guidance Excellence at South Carolina Rural Career Centers" is a segment you'll want to be sure to view before you begin your eIGP sessions with students and their families.

The consensus among career guidance professionals confirms that today's students are hungry to explore careers in which they can utilize their passion for gaming. South Carolina CTE programs are, thus, embracing gaming courses to meet the need of these students. OCTE's Tony Dillon joins us to share his courses in gaming on "Ten CTE Courses That Will Change South Carolina." Don't miss this one as Tony explains one of the state's most popular and fastest growing CTE courses.

Dr. Ray Davis will share more resources and CTE updates with you to assist you prepare for CTE Month and your job shadowing programming of your school's work-based learning focus. Don't miss February's Carolina Careers!

Literacy Matters – Literacy Leader Program Highlighted

The goal of the Literacy Leader Program is to build capacity in schools to implement the Common Core State Standards (CCSS) and dramatically increase student achievement by building High Progress Literacy Classrooms (HPLC). To create a vision of effective literacy instruction, instructional leaders must have a common understanding of evidence-based practices and classroom strategies. K-12 Literacy Leaders are involved in this program. Leaders examine effective classroom environments and strategies for effectively teaching readers and writers. There are 5 cohorts across the state. These cohorts meet once per month. Several of the cohorts will be highlighted in this program. For more information, please contact Jennifer Brown at jengirl1961@gmail.com.

This important series is coordinated by SCDE's SC Healthy Schools under the leadership of Lynn Hammond, SC Healthy Schools Program Manager. This program aired initially in October 2012 and is repeated since coming up in March is another SC Walk to School Day! The program focuses on providing and promoting safe walking and biking routes to and from school. Rodney Oldham, Safe Routes to School Program Coordinator with the SC Department of Transportation, and Nicole Brown, Midlands Area School Outreach Coordinator for Safe Routes to School, provide information on how to assess the current status of safe walking and biking routes for a school and how to develop and implement a plan for providing safe routes to school. In addition, they provide information on identifying partners and resources. This segment is useful and informative for district CSHAC members, school level administrators and wellness team members, physical education and health teachers, parent leaders, school improvement council members, and local community partners or coalitions that can help provide safe walking and biking routes to and from school. Please access it for your school community! Look for other "Making IT Happen" programs on March 21 and April 18. For more information on content, contact Lynn Hammond at lhammond@ed.sc.gov.

Pathways to Graduation (PTG) – January Program Repeats Topic: South Carolina and the Common Core State Standards

Repeats Feb. 4, 1:00–2:00 p.m. IMC (Unlimited rights) Also online in StreamlineSC

The January 2013 Pathways to Graduation program features a discussion on SC's implementation of the Common Core State Standards (CCSS) and how they can be used to help improve overall student achievement and graduation rates. The CCSS for English Language Arts and for Mathematics were adopted by our state in July of 2010 and will be fully implemented in school year 2014-15. Cathy Jones-Stork, SCDE Office of Teacher Effectiveness, joins PTG host Dr. John Lane to share information on how the CCSS may be utilized to ensure more effectively the success of struggling students. Information is provided on how CCSS may be utilized to help inform decisions regarding the effectiveness of intervention strategies. The information in this program is important for district administrators, school administrators, school counselors, teachers, and others who work with at-risk students as they develop comprehensive plans to improve high school graduation rates. For more information on content, please contact John at jlane@ed.sc.gov.

Teaching Channel News February 2013

This February, Teaching Channel Presents and PBS LearningMedia will help you explore new ways to integrate Common Core Standards into English and math lessons, enhance your history curriculum with primary source documents, and facilitate exciting problem solving activities. Let's get started!

February topics and themes include:

Week 1: Teaching English to the Core February 2, 2013, 3:00 p.m.

We'll join three teachers as they integrate the Common Core State Standards into their daily lessons. Along the way, we'll see one teacher's insider "play-by-play" on his lesson plan and see another teacher reflect on what went right and wrong with her lesson.

Preview: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=zMZ6hzj7nv8>

Looking for more Common Core English resources?
Check out these resources from PBS LearningMedia:

Public Speaking and Persuasion - Improve Your School!

Students describe ways in which they would like to improve their school by making an oral presentation to persuade the audience to agree with their ideas. Students are evaluated on their public speaking skills and their ability to be persuasive. (Grades 6-12)

Exploring Contrasts in "The Lanyard," by Billy Collins

In "The Lanyard," by Billy Collins, the speaker remembers a gift he made for his mother. This media-rich lesson helps students explore how contrasting images in a poem can create meaning. (Grades 7-12)

Week 2: Teaching Math to the Core February 9, 2013, 3:00 p.m.

Math Common Core State Standards emphasize analysis and problem solving: the how and why of every answer. We'll follow four phenomenal math teachers as they clearly show us how the Common Core can be implemented in classrooms.

Preview: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=xgTbY1wXQQI>

Want more Common Core Math ideas?
Check out these PBS LearningMedia resources:

Balancing Equations with Multiple Terms

In this video segment from Cyberchase, Digit and Inez must balance two number sentences to save the bunnies of Cyberspace. (Grades 3-6)

Surface Area of Pyramids

Work with formulas to determine surface area of pyramids. Advance in this interactive by finding the correct answers to surface area problems. (Grades 9-12)

Week 3: Reading Like A Historian February 16, 2013, 3:00 p.m.

A detailed look at a cutting-edge history curriculum that turns away from textbooks. We'll join young "Historians in Training" as they examine original documents and engage in lively discussions to discover the complexities of history.

Preview: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=JG3aha9RmU8>

Interested in additional primary source documents?
Check out these PBS LearningMedia resources:

Secret Message to Congress Regarding the Lewis & Clark Expedition \(1803\) and Resource Materials

This document includes images of the 1803 Secret Message to Congress Regarding the Lewis & Clark Expedition. (Grades 6-13+)

Emancipation Proclamation \(1863\) and Resource Materials

This document includes an image of the 1863 Emancipation Proclamation. (Grades 6-12)

Week 4: Perseverance and Problem Solving February 23, 2013, 3:00 p.m.

We'll visit several classrooms where the most important thing students are learning is the value of making mistakes. You'll witness the sense of accomplishment that comes with problem solving, trying again, and making progress.

Preview: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=bZQYw2pWi4M>

Want more problem solving activities?
Check out these media-rich resources from PBS LearningMedia:

Get Me to the Premiere on Time

Students solve simple speed and distance problems as a means to develop a generalization of the distance equation $d=rt$. Assessments examine if students can solve equivalent forms of the equation for different variables. (Grades 4-8)

Reroofing Your Uncle's House

This interactive activity adapted from the Wisconsin Online Resource Center challenges you to plan, measure, and calculate the correct amount of roofing material needed to reroof a house. (Grades 9-12)

Forward Focus

- PBS has produced a series of six thirty-minute programs entitled What Next After Newtown: What Our Country and Communities Can Do. eMedia will provide these programs for SC schools in March. Please look for schedule in the March edition of the eMedia Update and plan to access these programs for your administrators, teachers and school community.
- March is National Nutrition Month and Women's History Month so look for special programming your teachers can access from the eMedia IMC schedule and StreamlineSC!
- eMedia Teacher Recertification Courses start March 27, but registration opens this month on February 27. Please see information on last two pages of this eMedia Update!

One-hour/20 renewal credits Cost: $50.00 per one-hour course
Spring Session course dates: March 27–May 22

The SC Chronicles Series of one-hour courses will enhance the teacher's understanding of SC history and add a repertoire of material to use in the classroom. The video sessions focus on integrating SC history into the social studies curriculum. As participants gain a greater understanding of South Carolina history, they will be able to teach state curriculum standards with an updated historical knowledge of South Carolina history. All class meetings will take place through online learning. The instructor and participants will communicate via Moodle — the course platform on the Internet. Assignments and discussion forums will be facilitated in Moodle.

SC Chronicles Series I: Geography, Native Americans & Colonial Period

Noted South Carolina historian Dr. Walter Edgar discusses key issues in early SC History. Experience an archeological adventure at the Topper dig site in Allendale County, learn about the rise and fall of rice-growing and its impact on the state and find out the true tales of treachery and villainy that occurred off the coast during the Golden Age of Piracy. You will also virtually visit sites around the Palmetto State and learn about their historic and special relevance to South Carolina today.

SC Chronicles Series II: The Winds of Discontent

Noted South Carolina historian Dr. Walter Edgar discusses three key issues in early SC History: The winds of discontent in SC, The American Revolution in the Low Country and The American Revolution in the Up Country. Learn about Francis Marion's partisan campaigns during the American Revolution in SC and the historical importance of the Battle of Camden. You will view programs about SC heroines who have shaped our history and virtually visit sites around the Palmetto State to learn about their historic and special relevance to South Carolina today.

SC Chronicles Series III: Post Revolutionary

Noted South Carolina historian Dr. Walter Edgar discusses key issues in early SC History: Life and Culture in the New States 1786-1808, The Antebellum Period 1793-1822 and Southern Discontent 1830-1860. Participants learn about Charles Pinckney, the Forgotten Founder who contributed to the birth of our nation and the construction of the Santee Canal, considered the first "true" canal in this country. Participants will view a program about the Grimke Sisters who spoke out at an early age against slavery and virtually visit sites around the Palmetto State to learn about their historic relevance to SC today.

SC Chronicles Series IV: Civil War

Noted South Carolina historian Dr. Walter Edgar discusses key issues in SC History. South Carolina and the Civil War are discussed in three lessons: Secession from the Union, Beginning of the Civil War and Civil War in South Carolina. Participants will learn about political events, personalities, military campaigns, participation of African Americans, and the upheaval of this period in SC. We will visit the SC State Museum as they focus on the 150th anniversary of the start of the Civil War and the course also includes The Story of Mary Boykin Chestnut and her writings, which became "A Diary from Dixie."

SC Chronicles Series V: Art and Culture

Noted South Carolina historian Dr. Walter Edgar discusses key issues in SC History. SC art and architecture are discussed: 1) Art and Architecture, 2) Frontier, 3) Art and Purchasing, 4) Colonial Education. SC music and musicians are discussed: 1) Southern Music, 2) Blending of Musical Cultures, 3) Spoleto Festival, 4) Opera Houses and Theaters. The course includes programs from the SC State Museum Resources for Educators featuring exhibits of SC pottery, stoneware, baskets, and quilts. Included are highlights from the Holcombe family stoneware collection, ranging from exquisite pottery from the old Edgefield district, the highly-recognized slave potter Dave and South Carolina Silver: Varieties in Society, 1750–1910. The course will also explore the work of local authors and artists and virtually visit Brookgreen Gardens, a National Historic Landmark located on the coast of South Carolina and the Gullah-Geechee Cultural Heritage Corridor.
